REMARKS

Claims 29-31 stand rejected, and in order to expedite prosecution these claims are cancelled without prejudice.

As to the remaining claims, the Office Action Summary indicates that those claims are objected to, whereas the Detailed Action states that those claims are allowed. Since the Detailed Action provides no indication as to what might have caused the Examiner to object, it is taken that the summary is in error, and that the Examiner did intend to allow the claims.

Consequently, it is believed that the case is in condition for allowance. Passage of the case to issue is respectfully solicited.

Dated: 7/20/05Respectfully,
Steven M. BellovinBy Henry T. Brendzel
